Shri S.R.Shinde, APP for respondent No.2.

CORAM : R.M.S.KHANDEPARKAR, J

DATED : 24th JANUARY, 2005.

P.C.

1. None present for the Petitioners. Perused the records.

2. The Petitioners challenge the order passed in Criminal Revision Application No.21 of 1997 whereby the revision application filed by the Petitioners against the order passed by the trial Court dismissing the application for maintenance has also been dismissed. The Courts below, on analysis of the materials on record, have arrived at the concurrent findings to the effect that the Petitioner No.1 has been staying separately from the Respondent-husband without any sufficient cause and the allegation regarding the marriage by the respondent-husband is a mere allegation without any contention in support thereto. Both the Courts have also arrived at the concurrent findings on the aspect of failure on the part of the Petitioners to establish either negligence or refusal by the respondent-husband to maintain the Petitioners. Considering the same, there is no case made out for interference in the impugned order in exercise of writ jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India. Hence, the Petition is rejected.
